

Norman Phillip of Grangemouth, Scotland, talks about some of the real outcomes of carbon trading

by Celsius
Thursday, 20 March 2008

Leslie Berliant interviews Norman Phillips

The documentary "The Carbon Connection" features the people of two towns, one in Brazil and one in Scotland, that are intimately linked by a carbon trading project of BP Scotland. This interview features a conversation with one of those people, Norman Phillip of Grangemouth, Scotland talking about some of the real outcomes of carbon trading.

Listen to the interview - mp3

www.celsius.com